

Fiber Arts Camp

July 21-25

Fiber Arts Camp for ages 9-16;
Cost $250 per child, plus $10 materials fee
HOURS 9 a.m.- 5 p.m.

Lead Teachers:

Candace Waken,
Teresa Fischer, and
Louise Omoto Kessel

Candace Waken, a felt artist of many years experience, will be returning as our felting teacher for this year's Fiber Arts camp. Candace is an outstanding teacher with an ability to help a whole studio-full of felting students each working on a unique project of their own design! Colorful wool is combined with soap, hot water, and friction. . . is molded, pounded, squished, squeezed, and scrubbed, until it is transformed into sturdy and beautiful felted objects as varied as balls, puppets, bags, beads, slippers, hats, toys, and geodes. Felting is FUN! And the results are lovely.

Teresa Fisher raises sheep, sheers sheep, processes wool, spins wool, knits, crochets, and sews! We'll have some "sheep to shawl" demonstrations, and the opportunity to try a range of fiber arts during her studio workshops. Sewing, quilting, embroidery, knitting, crocheting and spinning are all possibilities in Teresa's workshop. PLUS, Teresa will actually bring one of her sheep to camp!

Louise Omoto Kessel is our camp director here at Clapping Hands Farm, and also a lover of fiber arts. She will offer crocheting instruction (including the making of rag rugs) and a variety of simple weaving experiences (on cardboard looms, inkle looms, stick looms, finger weaving, and card weaving.)
